morning last. The mail train had just arrived and a large number of persons were present, waiting for the opening of the Post Office, in the adjoining building. The actors in the scene were a lady from the South, the widow of a rebel officer, comely, spirited, and of good address, who has been residing here for a year past. The other party was an individual well known in this place for his intense love of Democracy, North and South, and all the emoluments thereunto appertaining. The lady approached him with a small rope and a buggy-whip by her side, LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

FRIEND Wilvert:—Columbia Law College had its commenced a vigorous application of the whip over his head and aboulders, charging him, at the same time, with having grossly slandered her, and as she had no one clusted do so she would inflict the proper punishment herself. Her anger was intense, and her language and expletives more forcible than politic, in which she bore heavily on the "Copperheads of the North," as she styled them. Is the struggle he succeeded in throwing her down, but she soon recovered and renewed the attack with increased violence. At this stage an officer interfered, when the viction of her attack was taken into Messrs. Garingers' store, while she proceeded up street, and with the air of a tragedy Queen, (whip and larse in hand,) declared that she intended to administer similar punishment to several others who had been guilty of nacalling her character. T. B. Peterson & Brothers, No. 306 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, have in press and will publish in a few days. "The Life of Hon. Schuyler Colfax." written by Rev. A. Y. Moore, of South Bend, Indiana, who was for twelve years, as pastor and friend, in the entire confidence of Mr. Colfax, and had access to the files of the paper published by Mr. Colfax for twenty years, and to the Coogressional Globe; knows all his past history and all who have known him from beyhood. He began this biography two or three years ago, so that it is not one of the hurried and ephemeral publications so common in election years. Mr. Moore is a gentleman of fine talent and culture, and there is no doubt but that his biography of Mr. Colfax will be worthy of its distinguished subject. MOORE'S LIPE OF HON. SCHUYLER COLFAX.

The following letter from Mr. Colfax to Rev. A. Y. Moore will explain itself:—

As the pastors and congregations of the different churches unite in these services, there will be no service in the Lutheran and Presbyterian churches on Sunday morning, and none in the Presbyterian and Methodist churches in the evening.

The public are carnestly invited to attend these services and the convention. The place for holding the convention will be announced from the pulpit on Sunday.

An Exciting Scene.—One of the most exciting scenes ever witnessed in this place occurred on the pavement, in front of the Masonic Hail, on Monday morning last. The mail train had just arrived and

"Rev. A. Y. Moore, South Hend, Indiana."

It will be published in a large duodecimo volume of five hundred pages, printed from large type, and on the finest and best of white paper, with a portrait, on steel, of Mr. Colfax, executed by one of the first artists in the country, from photographs taken of Mr. Colfax within the last week; the whole bound in cloth in the most substantial manner. Price, $1.50 a copy. Canvascers wanted everywhere.—Large discounts given. Copies will be sent to any one, at once, post-paid, on receipt of price, by the Publishers.
